ANALYZING THE RETURNS.

The elections this week taken as a whole are significant. They indicate quite clearly to all who are willing to see that the people of this country are on the way back to Republican rule and Republican policies of government, and that 1914 will in all human probability see the election of a Republican administration backed by a Republican congress. Many things may happen in two years, but if nothing passing strange intervenes to prevent the onward march of events this result is plainly outlined in the returns of Tuesday.

A matter for present consideration is the fact that the handwriting on the wall will probably re-write the Democratic administration from attempting any further radical legislation, and the relatively narrow majority in the house will render doubtful the administration's ability to put such legislation through. The knowledge of this fact will encourage business. The latter will at least feel that it has before it all the legislation it has to face for the present.

In Pennsylvania, the Democratic party is obliged to confess that the tariff is not a dead issue, but that the party which undertook to repeal it, the principle of protection to home industries is itself mortally wounded in the encounter. The idea of a tariff could not be ignored. They made no secret of it. They all confessed it. The silent wheels of the tariff mills and factories all over the state. The results indicate that the people realize the necessity of a protective tariff and the great value to our industry of a tariff. The voters of Pennsylvania took the common sense view that there was the proper reason to represent our interests because of his long experience and great ability as a statesman and a tariff expert. The opposition to him was made up of the revenge of Roosevelt and the ambition of the new Democratic state boss who confessed to having been the author of the iron and steel schedule of the Democratic tariff bill which had so much to do with closing down Pennsylvania's industries. Because men like him thought the people were wise to the situation, and the people do not like to see a man who has been so successful in his career as a statesman and a tariff expert, to say that he took the state back with him. Throughout the campaign it was freely said that because of his weight about the neck of the Republican party. The returns indicate that he was the lead horse in the race.

In the county, competition united against Senator Brown, principally because he was the man they knew they had to get out with whom they could not trade. His position as state chairman gave him little time to devote to his personal fight. He had the reputation of the whole state that he had no chance. The fact is a complete surprise to many who could not believe that in Fayette county for many years, and he faced it with a smile. He made few enemies, but he made them count. His splendid organization and his personal friends did the rest. He received the largest vote in Fayette county. He carried through the balance of the Republican victory in Fayette county was a complete success. It was a complete success in certain political circles, especially in the Fayette county, where there is a strong feeling of sympathy for the man. A tariff as a rallying point.

The results of the election further indicate the final ruin of the tariff party at home and abroad. There is no organization here in a number of states, and the tariff party in Fayette county would not have been more than a few hundred men and women. Some of his old followers have renounced him. But it is only an empty trick. The boys are coming back home.

"Wash" Johnson insisted upon having on to the White Man's Party which he was. "Wash" doesn't seem to be getting anywhere. He is a little better, but he has lost his touch.

The election overseers who were called "bros" by the opposition press may have something more to say about politics, too.

The R. & O. movement does not think smoking on duty promotes the efficiency of its employees. It does not, and the enforcement of the rule, while it may seem a great hardship to the men, will also prove to be a good economy.

In the meantime, Woodrow will resume the old policy of Watchful Waiting.

The noon hour religious service in the Connelville shops is a good thing, but we cannot refrain from reminding the ministers that there were more men in the shops under Republican administration.

M. Clyde Kelley was too much of a fool for T. Roosevelt. The same accident does not often happen twice in the same place.

The Connelville News shrieks out that the country is ruled by the Russians. Not quite. There are quite a number of Russians in the Connelville party, and some are high in its councils. The News is a funny joker.

The common sense of the Connelville people saved the bond issue.

Sumner county is on the way back to Republican administration. Some of the friends up on the mountain tops had better get it in their minds that 1914 will be the last call for the bond issue.

The tariff production is smaller and prices lower than they have been for many years, and 90% of the Connelville vote is concentrated in making pig iron. And the Hartford organ told us that it is a political conspiracy. If it is, it is certainly not a Republican conspiracy.

It wasn't a Democratic year. But one Phantom tried to vote. He wanted to vote against the Republican ticket. It was Goodnight for him.

The President is no longer New Jersey's favorite son.

Roosevelt succeeded in dividing the Democratic party this time. That $200 was the worst contribution the three-foot boys made to the campaign.

It is beginning to be admitted, now that the election is over, that the "Crow" is a mildly decent fellow after all. That's what the people said at the polls, too.

General Harmony Hickey and Postmaster McGinnis carried their own ward anyhow.

"Up to the last minute the Standard organs harped on the candidacy of Roosevelt," says the Connelville News. It's the truth that hurts.

The Hartford Boys heard from the bloody third.

The returns from Fayette and Westmoreland show that the Connelville vote knows what's the matter with its 21,000 idle coke ovens.

In other words, the people took no stock in the Hartford romances.

Washington county has come back, and it is welcomed by the Honorable Ernest Francis Ashton is packing his trunk preparatory to leaving the Bull Moose reservation.

The People still rule.

William Evans Crow didn't say very much in this campaign. His enemies did a lot of talking. The more they tried about him, the more the people resented it. The Character Assassins didn't get him because the people were his shield and buckler. They know him better than some of those who have tried to traduce him.

It is about time for the Pittsburgh Dispatch to declare itself again.

The News says that Connelville negroes were ejected into voting the Republican ticket. What else could they do? Didn't the Hartford organs lead them out of the Democratic party?

"Tariff Bole" Hopwood is still in good company and glad of it.

There will be no unemployment in the law firm of Sterling and Hickey as they will and who shall not be Attorney General of Pennsylvania.

The Hartford and Bull Moose organs of Fayette county have a lot to take back.

T. Roosevelt lost his punch in Pennsylvania, but T. Roosevelt's cause has recovered it. Then to one in Philadelphia, "don't count" to one in Fayette county. He had been the favored by Roosevelt at the instigation of Elmer.

Washington will welcome Uncle Joe Brown and the Republican General who will ride over the return of the veteran to Congress.

And when the People came and saw the Hartford boys passed by on the other side.

Pinchot made a poor third, and his friend Roosevelt told us that Pinchot wasn't in the race. Even the Democrats will lose confidence. In Fayette as a political propagandist.

King Albert of Belgium may not have any country left, but doubtless fame will be his.

Now that the election is over, and likewise the Thanksgiving season, perhaps the Democratic administration can get down to business.

The Connelville night school has evidently come to stay.

President Taft is apparently still unable to appreciate the difference between a ministerial and a judicial act.

If all the Connelville voters had voted we might have made that Republican majority considerably larger.

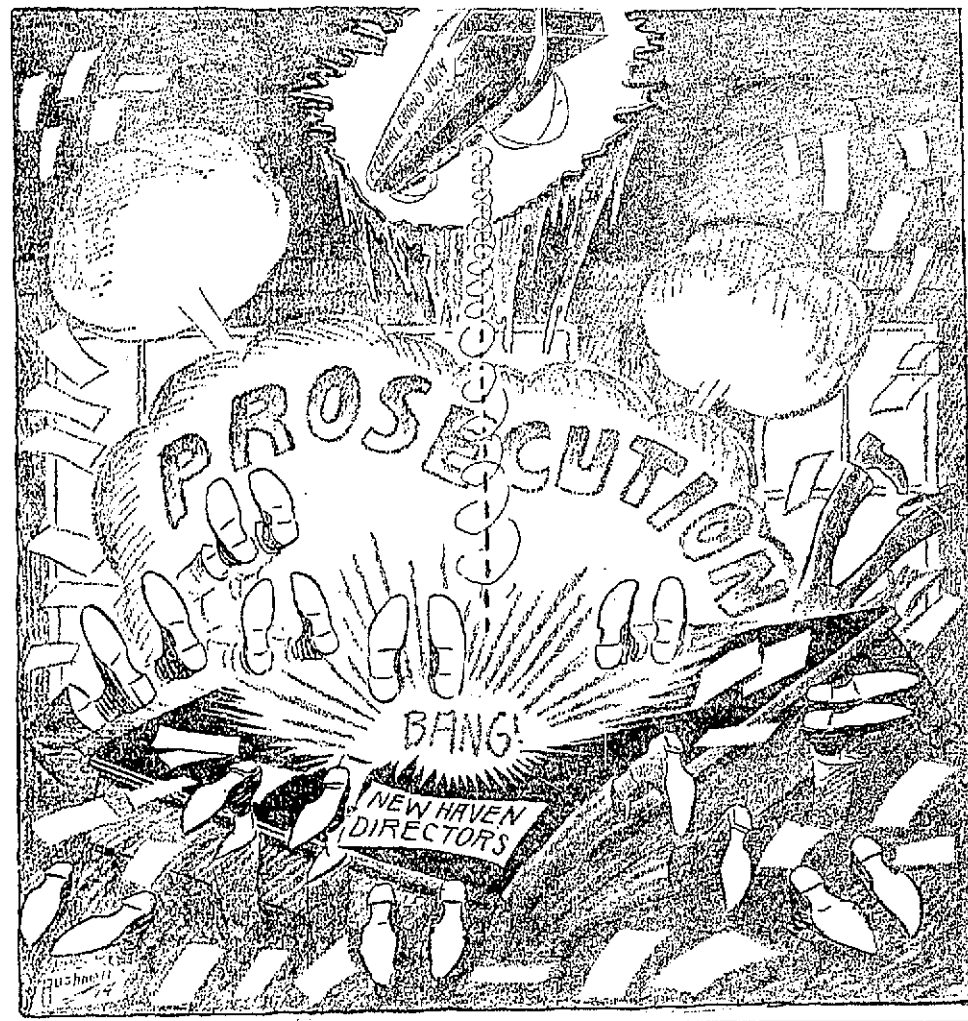

The Women Suffrage movement has suffered a chill. The militant spirit which had not helped the cause any in America.

INQUIRIES OUT FOR FURNACE COKE FOR 1915 ON CONTRACT

Producers and Consumers Not Very Close Together on the Price

EFFORTS TO BREAK $2 MINIMUM

Are in Evidence but Nothing Done Yet. For Balance of Year $1.75 is Done. Prompt Furnace Deal at $1.00 Ton. Furnace Coke Quiet in Sympathy.

From The Weekly Courier. PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Despite the extreme dullness that pervades the entire iron and steel trade a few consumers, it is estimated to work forward and have out inquiries for furnace coke for either the first half or the whole of next year. The inquiries are rather attractive, coming from the consumers that are most likely to operate. So far as can be ascertained no final prices have been quoted on these inquiries. Sellers appear to be uncertain just what to quote. On the one hand, the price of coke among coke producers is that conditions must soon begin to improve, so that now would be a bad time to set a price for next year. On the other hand there is always a desire to accumulate some backlog business and then average up by securing higher prices on later sales. While operators might begin taking $2.00 as a price for next year, the consuming interest seems to think it would not require much for them to receive to $1.80, and probably even to $1.75 on some low grade coke. The latest contract, closed a couple of weeks ago was at $1.75, for the balance of this year. Up to date nothing at all has been closed for next year.

The market for prompt furnace coke continues dull. There have been a few sales in the past week to consumers at $1.75, or generally involving only five or ten carloads at a time. Occasionally an odd lot is offered at a shade less than this figure, but $1.75 is generally regarded as a well established market for prompt furnace coke of standard grade. A sale of low phosphorus coke for early delivery is understood to have been made at $1.75.

Furnace coke is quiet along with furnace coke. Regular inquiries for prompt shipment are held at $2.15 to $2.25 to consumers, while the few very large producers of best grade furnace coke are holding nominally to $2.50 to consumers at a lower price. Various other grades of coke are offered down nearly to $2.00 on contract and at less than $2.00 for spot, but these are not quotable as standard.

The general line up of the market is unchanged from a week ago, the quotation on contract furnace coke referring to this year's delivery only, as selling prices for next year would be higher.

"MISLEADING LADY"

Unusual Show is Presented at the Colonial Theatre.

"The Misleading Lady," the second of the Colonial's high-class attractions, pleased a good sized house last night.

The show itself lived up to all the nice things that had been said of it. It was hard to close it as pure farce, for it was a good deal more than that. It was a farce that had a lesson to it, and a farce that had a lesson to it.

The character "Daisy" the escaped female whose presence in the story is no more than a mere comic injection, elicited most of the laughter. Yet, with the fact that Daisy made you laugh, there was a pathetic touch to the characterisation, especially where he is presented with a sword and in return his faithful hound barks to make the owner a martyr of France. The girl was well acted, too.

The Colonial orchestra played selections from "The Gay Diva" which plays at the theatre Wednesday, November 25, matinee and night.

Two Drunks Plunged. Two arrests were made by the police last night. John Murphy, of unknown, was charged this morning with being drunk and disorderly, but Edward White, of this city, was locked up until tonight.

Winter Goods! All New—Some Specially Low Priced

CLOTHING OPPORTUNITY!

The Men's Clothing Store has taken some of the remaining suits and overcoats earlier marked 17.50 and $20 each, and changed their prices to

We do this at times when certain garments sell faster than others and leave broken size ranges.

With some of the splendid 17.50 and $20 suits and overcoats added to the fine collection of $15 apparel, men are going to get extra clothes value this week-end, if $15 is the amount they've set to pay. This change in price makes the $15 assortment complete in model variety, color and texture variety and size range. Any man, whatever his size, can be rightly fitted.

The clothes have tailor-work and style above equal-priced garments elsewhere, because this apparel is sold to no other stores here. The fabrics are in fashionable patterns, warranted strictly all-wool and unfadable. It's the kind of clothes to buy for dressy wear, warmth and durability.

In Suits—unfaded worsteds, chevrons, serge weaves, cassimeres and novelty suitings, solid gray, blue, or brown; patterned colors, stripes in various shades on dark backgrounds; Tartan checks in brown, blue, green or colors; etc. Patch pocket English styles and conservative models.

In overcoats—Hulme and dressier models with military, convertible, shawl or notch collars. Lined or unlined overcoats in solid colors or mixed colors, light-weight and unlined. Or moderate length, semi-fitting models in diagonal patterns, solid colors and mixtures. Sizes and kinds for everybody—$15.

New Model Suits For Young Women Specially Priced $15

Two styles in Wool Granite Cloth, in Russian green and navy blue. Both have military-like collars, and both are fabric fur trimmed. Coats are short—the style difference being a double pleat down the back of one model. Skirts are yoke-effect, slightly flared and plain, but for a fabric fur band around the bottom. Sizes 14, 16 and 18.

YOUNG WOMEN'S SUITS AT $25—SPECIAL VALUES.

PENROSE HAS 230,000 OVER PINCHOT, NEAREST RIVAL

Ball Moose and Hancock, Boy Run Neck and Neck in the State.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Complete returns from all but 15 of the 67 counties in the state and incomplete figures from the missing districts give Pinchot a plurality of 240,493 over Clifford Pinchot, his nearest rival on the present face of the returns for the United States Senate.

Latest returns show that both Pinchot and A. Mitchell Palmer ran a remarkable even race throughout the state. The total vote received by the three candidates aggregates 383,632, divided as follows:

Penrose, 488,346; Pinchot, 262,853; Palmer, 251,433.

Martha G. Brumbaugh's plurality over Vance C. McCormick for the Governorship stands at 139,041. These figures are based on complete returns from all but 15 counties in the state, and in the case with the returns on the Senate. Incomplete figures are included in the governorship returns.

THE SOISSON.

S." is an educational picture of exceptional value. "Currier's Wash Day" is a Sterling comedy, full of fun. Tomorrow the "Trey O'Hearts" will be presented. Practically complete returns from 47 of the 67 counties for Supreme and Superior Court show the following totals: Supreme Court, Penrose, 302,615; Russell, 276,147; Superior Court, Trotter, 387,225; Clark, 171,172.

ORE MOVEMENT

On the Lakes is Rapidly Drawing to a Close.

The ore trade is rapidly drawing to a close on the lakes and will be practically over by the end of the present month. All of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company's barges are in winter quarters and the steamers are being dropped as they come down. Other shippers are sending their vessels to stock and there is practically nothing doing for the wild carrier except grain.

Storms have been prevailing on the lakes during the past few days, but the vessels have generally avoided them by remaining in port. This delay will cut down October shipments somewhat, but the latest season's movement will be approximately 32,000,000 tons.

In the Cumberland district, there was an increase of one furnace to a total of 24, compared with 26 last year. In Scotland, operations are unchanged at 67 stacks, compared with 81 in 1913.
